“Father of the Green Revolution”

Dr. Norman Ernest Borlaug (25 March 1914 to 12 September 2009)

The expression "The Green Revolution" is permanently linked to Norman Borlaug's name. He obtained a PhD in plant protection at the age of 27. Borlaug recommended improved methods of cultivation, and developed a robust strain of wheat - dwarf wheat - that was adapted to Mexican conditions. He was founder of The World Food Prize. He was awarded multiple honors including Nobel Peace Prize (1970), Presidential Medal of Freedom (1977), ForMemRS (1987), Vannevar Bush Award (2000), Public Welfare Medal (2002), National Medal of Science (2004), Congressional Gold Medal (2006) and Padma Vibhushan (2006).

“Food is the Moral Right of All Who are Born into This World.” Dr. Norman Borlaug
